within the remit of Tribunal Service. Residential Property Tribunal Service may hold the information that you have requested.

The Residential Property Tribunal Service ("RPTS") is the umbrella organisation for the five regional offices called Rent Assessment Panels which provide an independent, fair and accessible tribunal service in England for settling disputes involving private rented and leasehold property through:

See London LVT.

Rent Assessment Committees: which determine disputes about fair and market rents

Leasehold Valuation Tribunals: which determine disputes involving leasehold property

Residential Property Tribunals: which determine certain appeals against denial of the Right to Buy

You may if you wish write to them direct at the address below.
