Dear Sir/Madam

Re: Jefferson House.

As you are aware from the letter sent by Mr Benveniste on 2nd October, the internal decorations have cost more than they were originally anticipated, and therefore we enclose herewith a demand based on the collection of an additional £8,000 to cover the sums expended.

We also enclose on the demand now being sent to you, all the sums outstanding from you, and in view of the problems that are being experienced with the cashflow, could you please ensure that any arrear items are now paid by return.

We would inform you that unless the outstanding sums now due from you are settled, we will have no alternative than to inform our client, who will no doubt take legal action against you.

Obviously we do not wish to take this action, and we look forward to receiving your cheque in settlement.

Yours faithfully

With regard to our letter dated 30th October 1989, we write to inform you that unfortunately there was a typing error.
