30 June 2010 – Events

My Diary 30 Jun 10

Walking on the Brompton Road, in the direction of South Kensington, I noticed that a man, 50s, dressed in black was, as he frequently does (and always wearing the same type of clothes), sitting on a bench on the elevated section of the pavement on Brompton Road. This time, he was sitting at the height of c. #150.

As I was walking on the opposite pavement, I noticed that he was looking in my direction, following me as I was walking. He has previously done this on several other occasions.

Brompton Road, 10h04

I did an errand in one of the shops, past where he was sitting. As I came out, he was still looking in my direction. At that point, I tracked back from where I had come in order to take the above photograph - 10h04.

I then went to an internet café in South Kensington, in which I remained until c. 13h30.

By 14h00 I was close to the post office on the Old Brompton Road, in South Kensington.

Old Brompton Road – 14h02

As can be seen in the above photograph taken at 14h02 – hence, four hours later - the man had also come to South Kensington, and was looking in my direction.

I remained where I was to see what he would do next.

Old Brompton Road – 14h04

As can be seen in the above 14h04 photograph, he continued walking and then stopped in the entrance to a building – continuing to look at me.

As he continued to do so, after 2-3 minutes I took a mobile phone out of my bag and started to talk.

The man then took a mobile out of his pocket. He was evidently given the order from 'headquarter' to leave, as he departed within the next 20 seconds - while still looking at me.

Previously

On a previous occasion, in the preceding weeks, one evening, as I was heading back towards the flat, coming from South Kensington, the same man had also been sitting on one of the same benches on the elevated section on Brompton Road.

As I went by, he gave a very nasty look, as well as made a remark.

Having gone past him, I did a one finger sign in my back.

The following evening, shortly after I left the French Institute, he had ensured to come face-to-face with me in South Kensington. Hence, he obviously knew about my movements on that day.

I believe these actions amount to criminal offences against me under:

- The Protection from Harassment Act 1997: s.1 – Prohibition of harassment; s.2 – Offence of harassment; s.4 – Putting people in fear of violence; s.7 – Interpretation of this group of sections (harassment on at least two occasions).
- The Criminal Justice and Police Act 2001: s.44 – Collective harassment - as this man has clearly been put up to doing this by person/s to be identified during the investigation by the police – which, I am sure, include Andrew David Ladsky, Jefferson House, (among others, a fraudster, well known to ‘certain individuals’ in Kensington police).
- The Public Order Act 1986 – s.4A – Intentional harassment, alarm or distress.

Statement of Truth

I believe that the facts stated in this crime report are true.

Date:

I signed and dated it, 8 October 2010 (The day I went to Chelsea police to report it) (and when, due to the silence from PC Giles, I also re-submitted my 4 October 2010 crime report against the other man – My Diary 27 Jul 10)
